Orientation

Introduction
Cessna Aircraft Company offers on-site and on-line courses as part of its ongoing efforts to improve aviation safety. Although some of the instructional material will explore performance criteria specific to the Caravan, the majority of information found here can be applied generally, to all aircraft.

The course will refresh your understanding about flight into known icing conditions. Cessna Caravan operators and pilots will find the seminars especially useful.

This course is mandatory every 12 calendar months for pilots operating the Cessna Caravan aircraft in icing conditions.
